Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

JAPAN today parts company with the United States and Great Britain on the strait and narrow road of peace, and plunges off by herself on the course of yellow empire. Some nice old lady editorial writers profess to be terribly surprised at this thing which the Japanese are about to do—but writers of such drivel make me tired. Newspapermen, of all people, being so familiar with history, should know that while the age of gold makes for peace and security and nicely-written literary editorials, the world is never far removed from the age of blood and sand and steel. Japan is about to try something that is as old as Time itself—to play the Strong Man role in Asia.

Chapman Sentenced to 7 Years Here

Pleads Guilty to $24,000 Robbery of First National

Brought to Washington by State Penitentiary Warden Todhunter

3-TIME SENTENCE

Chapman Previously Guilty of Bank Robbing, Camden and Smackover

Charles Chapman, self-styled "depression desperado," pleaded guilty in circuit court at Washington Saturday to the $24,000 holdup of the First National of Hope here last February 23, and was sentenced to seven years in the state penitentiary.

Chapman is the second man to be convicted for the robbery. Charles Williams, one of the first suspects to be arrested, pleaded guilty to his part in the robbery last spring and is now serving a five-year term.

Charges against June Brashear, third man accused in the robbery, were dismissed last October after Brashear had stood trial twice each resulting in hung juries.

Chapman was brought here from Tucker Farm by Warden S. T. Todhunter and Trust Guards Sam Day and Earl Decker. They left immediately after the trial on the return trip to the state farm.

First National Bank officials, court officials and a few spectators were present at the trial. Chapman was sentenced by Circuit Judge Dexter Bush.

Conviction of Chapman Saturday clears up a series of southwest Arkansas bank robberies. He is already under a 15-year sentence for robbery of the Smackover State Bank which occurred in January of 1933 in which $5,597.10 was taken.

The day before Chapman was to stand trial for the Smackover robbery he jumped bond and disappeared. Soon afterward he participated in the robbery of the Camden Bank & Trust Co.

Chapman was arrested last October at Gulfport, Miss., and shortly afterwards was returned to Camden and pleaded guilty to robbery of the bank there. He was sentenced to 20 years. A few days later he was taken to Smackover to plead guilty and draw a 15-year sentence.

U. S. Highway Aid May Be Defaulted

Arkansas' Share Is 2 1/2 Millions—But Has No Money to Match It

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Wallace Friday appropriated $125,000,000 of federal funds to aid states in highway construction during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1935.

The funds, made available this fiscal year, will be used under the Hayden-Cartwright act for joint co-operation by states and the federal government.

States must match federal funds with an identical amount. The federal government pays its share when given proof of completed work.

Appropriations included: Arkansas $2,604,320.

State Has No Money
LITTLE ROCK—Arkansas has no funds with which to match the federal allotment of regular federal aid, J. C. Baker, state director of highways, said Friday, and it is considered unlikely that the legislature will undertake, or find it possible, to provide a means for raising more than $2,000,000 that would enable the state to utilize the federal money.

For the past several years, federal emergency appropriations have been used by Arkansas and other states in matching regular federal aid, but beginning with the next fiscal year this practice will not be permitted, unless congressional action should force a change in the announced policy.

$3,000 Paid Here for 'Possum Hides

More Than 5,500 Furs Purchased Locally by Porterfield & Son

J. C. Porterfield & Son, of Hope, Friday bought more than 5,500 possum hides from trappers between this city and the Louisiana line, releasing more than $3,000 in cash to this territory.

These furs have been sold and will be shipped out of the city within a few days Mr. Porterfield announced.

The NEW YEAR

By BRUCE CATTON

WHY greet the New Year, if it is to be
A copy of the years that went before—
A tale of wrongs unrighted, golden ore
Unmined and songs unsung, of victory
That infirm hands let slip, of children's tears
That no one tried to dry? How dare we write
Another page, unless it set alight
A beacon for the marchers down the years?

Now, by our vision of a brighter day,
Our hope of dawn in everlasting night,
Let this year see us farther on the way
That winds through darkness to the sun-crowned height
Where gleams a shining city. Ah, be bold—
And make the new year better than the old!

Burr Store Begins Removal of Stock

Second and Elm Location Is Closed—Moving to 107 West Second

The local Burr Department Store started moving fixtures and merchandise into its new location Friday.

The store at Second and Elm will remain closed during the moving and will open Thursday, January 10, at the new store building at 107 West Second street. The new building is considerably larger than the old store and has been refurnished throughout. All merchandise will be displayed on one floor.

F. J. McGuinness, district superintendent for the Burr Stores, is also in Hope assisting in the remodeling of the new building. All labor and materials necessary for the remodeling have been secured in Hope.

L. E. Fountain, manager of the Burr Store in Hope, will also be in charge of the new store, and announced that the same personnel would be retained in the new location.

Duty Must Repay $5,175 to State

Court Rules Against Former Attorney General's Assistant

LITTLE ROCK—Claude Duty of Rogers, former assistant attorney general, must repay to the state $5,175 paid to him from the state highway fund as living expenses at the rate of $15 a month from January 1, 1927, to September 30, 1933, Judge Harris held in Third Division Circuit Court Friday.

The payments were in addition to Duty's salary as assistant attorney general in charge of Highway Department legal affairs. Judge Harris ruled that the allowance was unauthorized and entered judgment against Duty for the above amount.

Attorneys for W. W. Mitchell, former assistant highway engineer, who received excess salary and living expense payments of $1,160 between January 1, 1928, and April 1, 1932, agreed to a confessed judgment against Mitchell for that amount and the judgment was approved Friday.

Charles S. Christian, former chief highway engineer, has been agreed to, his attorney said, but the judgment has not been entered.

The Arkansas Supreme Court held in February, 1933 that former members of the state Highway Commission and their bondsmen were not liable for the overpayments.

Mr. Duty's lawyers said that he will appeal Judge Harris' decision to the state Supreme Court.

Attorney General Walter L. Pope represented the state in the litigation.

Mayor Boyett to Ask Re-Election

Announces Candidacy in Democratic City Primary February 12

Mayor R. A. (Ruff) Boyett formally announced in the political column of today's Star as a candidate for re-election in the Democratic city primary February 12.

Mayor Boyett told The Star that his 10 years in municipal office recommended his candidacy at a time when many city governments are in deep financial distress.

"The City of Hope is on Easy Street compared with most cities," the mayor declared. "The budget system of handling city accounts was adopted during my administration the last two years," he said, "and it has been closely adhered to."

Looking back over a great many years, he continued:

"Except for the original unit of the municipal water and light plant every important improvement of a public nature in our city has been achieved under my administration."

"In the last two years, in particular, the city has drilled two new water wells at a total cost of $3,743, and has constructed watermain improvements totaling $15,000—all of which is paid for."

"We have also increased the fire department equipment to include two pumping engines."

Holiday Business Closes 25 Pct. Up

Nation's Christmas Trade May Prove the Best Since 1929

NEW YORK—(AP)—Inventories of holiday goods were reduced to the smallest proportions in years, said the Dun & Bradstreet weekly trade review, by the exceptional volume of Christmas buying which reached peak levels last Monday.

"Preliminary estimates for the country as a whole," said the summary, "place the Christmas sales at an increase ranging from 25 to 40 per cent, by comparison with those of last year, with the possibility that final totals will show the best trade in dollars since 1929."

"With the surprisingly large expansion of the December volume, the compilation of the final returns for 1934 doubtless will reveal an increase in sales of 15 to 20 per cent over the 1933 figures."

While the possible trend of industrial operations in 1935 may be variously interpreted, there is no uncertainty regarding the boldness with which recovery has proceeded since the midsummer lull.

"For 10 consecutive weeks the Dun & Bradstreet business activity barometer has climbed upward steadily, and for the current period scored the sharpest upturn in many years. From 69.6 for the week preceding it jumped to 74.5, or a gain of 7 per cent, which carried it beyond the midsummer peak to the highest level in three and a half years."

Bulletins

WALDMOIR, Germany—(AP)—Miss Elsa Sittell, New York, was under arrest here Saturday as the result of derogatory remarks she is alleged to have directed at Hitlerite Storm Troopers and picked Nazi guards.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt arranged a conference late Saturday with Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, to go over plans for the coming congress session, which opens January 3.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(AP)—The Richmond county sheriff's office was notified Saturday that Dr. T. M. White, abducted by six convicts Friday, has been released in South Carolina. White called the sheriff from Kailwood and said he had been freed.

CANDLER—(AP)—Injuries received in a fall two days ago proved fatal Saturday to W. Teachworth, 73, of Eagle Mills.

POCAHONTAS, Ark.—(AP)—Leo Bales, held in connection with the robbery of a store at Biggers, and who was shot and slightly wounded at the time of his arrest Christmas night, Saturday waived indictment and pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and grand larceny. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Millions of dollars of much-needed revenue gladdened the hearts of state treasurers Saturday as they added up the results of their first year in the liquor business.

States operating their own liquor systems, however, were faced with the possibility of the federal government stepping in and taking a share of the profits in the form of federal taxes.

Japan Abrogates 5-5-3 Navy Treaty

Will Go Her Own Way, Land of Rising Sun Tells U. S. A.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Japan scrapped the Washington naval treaty Saturday, calling once more for a new pact which would give her equality and wipe out all "offensive weapons of war."

Declaring he was not at all anxious over the possibility of a naval race, Ambassador Saito, who delivered the notice of Japan's decision, said Japan is willing to discard half her navy if a common maximum limit for the United States, Great Britain and Japan is established.

He also expressed hope that a new treaty could be agreed upon within the next two years.

Japan's definition of offensive weapons included giant battleships and airplanes.

Comparative Strength

TOKIO, Japan—With formal notification of Japan's abrogation of the Washington treaty set for Saturday, the Tokio Nichi Nichi and its sister newspaper, the Asaka Mainichi, published a sensational article blaming the United States for wrecking Japan's hope of obtaining naval equality by treaty. These papers have among the largest circulations in the country.

Japan, the article announced, will get parity, treaty or no treaty. It continued:

"The two months' overtures at London availed nothing as the United States could not see Japan's situation and there is very little hope of getting the Americans to see Japanese claims at the next conference, so it is doubtful if an accord can be reached. Therefore, after 1936 the world will be without a naval treaty."

Japan, fortunately, has practically nothing to lose and everything to gain in abolishing the Washington pact, the report said.

"Japan's national defense will not be endangered in the least and the naval race can be entered without the slightest misgivings," the papers asserted.

To prove this boast, the article set down figures showing the standings of navies at the beginning of 1937 as follows:

Sheriff Bearden to "Crack Down", Starting Tuesday

Bearden, McDowell and Mrs. Onstead to Be Inaugurated Jan. 1

LIST OF DEPUTIES

Bearden Not to Use Paid Field Men Until Tax-paying Time

Inauguration of Hempstead county's new officers Tuesday, January 1, was preceded Saturday by a warning from Jim E. Bearden, sheriff-elect, that he would "crack down" on whiskey law violators and drunken auto-drivers.

Sheriff Bearden will be sworn in Tuesday at the courthouse in Washington, along with the following other new officials:

County Clerk Ray McDowell, succeeding Arthur C. Anderson; and Mrs. Isabelle Onstead, county assessor, succeeding John Ridgill.

Officers re-elected, who will take the oath for their second terms, are: County Judge H. M. Stephens; Treasurer Frank Ward; and Circuit Clerk Dale C. Jones.

New Deputies

Sheriff Bearden made public Saturday the following list of deputy appointments:

W. A. Lewis, chief office deputy and deputy collector.

C. C. Stuart, deputy collector and deputy sheriff.

B. O. Robins, jailer and deputy sheriff.

H. C. Stuart, deputy sheriff, Hope.

Hugh Bearden, deputy sheriff, Hope.

Jesse Samuels, Garland Township.

J. I. Jones, Nolen Township.

Mont Harris, Wallaceburg.

K. B. Spears, Wallaceburg.

Green Shuffield, Redland.

Earl Martindale, Mine Creek.

T. J. Downs, Saline.

Ed. Wilson, Bois d'Arc.

John W. Griffin, Ozan.

Jim Ford, Spring Hill.

Ed Collins, Spring Hill.

E. L. Rider, Bodew.

B. W. Burns, Bodew.

S. R. Hamilton, Hinton.

Floyd Jones, Shover Springs.

Bearden's Statement

Mr. Bearden made the following statement:

"Appointments will be made later for Water Creek, Saratoga and McNab. I am appointing several business and professional men who will be detailed to arrest drunken drivers. Their duties will be limited to this violation. I am also appointing several confidential agents whose names will never be revealed. Any information you furnish me will never be revealed to anyone. I think I may position clear as to the principles I advocated and stood for in the campaign strictly law and order.

"The above appointments will appear at Washington, January 1, 1935, 10 o'clock, to be sworn in and receive their commission, and will remain here until I can have a conference with them in the courtroom about 2 p. m. It has been suggested by several of my friends that I notify all law violators. They were notified from every stump from which I spoke, so this is final. The way to say out of trouble is not to violate the law. It is the same violation of the state law to manufacture, transport, or sell, or possess whisky as it was before the

Only A Quack Claims Cure for Cancer

If anyone tells you he can cure cancer, shun him as a charlatan and a swindler.

There is no scientific evidence to show that any serum, drug, or combination of drugs will cure cancer. Today we still say that the great hope in cancer is only diagnosis and surgical treatment, carefully associated with judicious use of radium X-ray.

Nevertheless, various drugs have been injected, caustic pastes have been applied, and similar methods, avoiding the use of the knife, have been widely exploited by cancer cure promoters and swindlers for many years.

When the American Association for the Control of Cancer tried some years ago to obtain applicants for a prize, which is to be given to the one who first develops a cure for cancer, 2500 persons applied. But not one of the cures offered was worth the paper on which the description of the technique was printed.

There is, after all, a simple way to find out whether a product offered as a cure for cancer is worth while. We know today the average duration of life of the person with a cancer when the cancer is not treated, and we know also the average duration of life following the application of surgery, or use of radium and the X-ray.

We know enough to be certain that treatment of any considerable number of people with any special cure for cancer should show within a period of five years whether the product is worth while.

It is safe to say at this time that not one of the widely promoted cancer cures that has been offered to the public during the last 20 years even slightly resembles an actual cure. The American Medical Association has assembled, in a pamphlet called "Cancer Cures and Treatments," the records of some 35 cancer charlatans who have offered their methods to the American people since 1900 and who attained notoriety by bringing their prominence in the public press or to cause a considerable number of inquiries to be sent to the headquarters office.

These cancer cures include, for the most part, cancer pastes which are caustic and which take off as much living, healthy tissue as cancerous tissue. In many instances the paste itself is largely responsible for an untimely end.

In other instances, the method involves the use of injections, either of innocuous mixtures of water and inert salts, or of nonspecific protein preparations which bring about a severe reaction in the body of the patient and cause him to think that something has been accomplished.

Introduction of radium gave rise to a half-dozen radium quackeries said to be in some instances radium-impregnated fluids which were to be taken internally. It has now been established that radium solutions taken internally, if they contain enough radium, will harm the human body, and, if they do not contain radium, are the purest quackery.

The development of electrical devices has brought about various radio machines and machines said to give an electrical discharge, which are also quackeries.

One of the most serious aspects of the quack's work is his insistence that his cure will not work if the patient has already had radium treatment. Thus many a patient sacrifices time that might well be devoted to scientific benefit to trifle with the charlatan's nostrums.

National prosperity, says Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, can't be restored—because we have never really had it. Instead, it has to be won.

Mr. Thomas makes this point in "Human Exploitation," a fortnightly book in which he tests our society by counting noses and seeing how many of them have been getting soaked. His conclusions are somewhat startling.

Baer Knocks Out Levinsky in 2nd

World's Champion Quickly Finishes Challenger in 4-Round Bout

CHICAGO—(AP)—Max Baer, heavyweight champion of the world, ended a scheduled four-round bout with Kingfish Levinsky Friday night with a knockout early in the second round.

About 16,000 spectators were stunned by the sudden finish of the battle, scheduled as an exhibition. Baer weighed 211 pounds and Levinsky 201. Fighting with six-ounce gloves, the fighters had men under an agreement providing for no decision except by a knockout.

In the first round, after sparring in mid-ring, Baer landed a hard right to the jaw that drove Levinsky to the ropes and pounded Levinsky's ribs at close range.

The champion attempted to get Levinsky to lead and laughed when Levinsky refused to do so. Levinsky drove two hard rights to the body. Baer smashed punches to the body. Baer swung a left and right to the body and Levinsky retaliated with a heavy right to the chin.

In the second round Baer had waited in his corner for Levinsky to come after him. But the Kingfish motioned for him to come out. They fought furiously in the center of the ring for a few moments. Then Baer with a snarl tore into Levinsky driving him into the ropes under a murderous attack. Levinsky sagged under the punishment. As he attempted to go into midring, Baer nailed him with a terrific right to the jaw, knocking Levinsky flat on his back and he was counted out. The time was 53 seconds.

"It explains why many beauty salons not only are giving pedic massages to their customers before proceeding with facial treatments, but also why they often give sensible advice in regard to the need for properly fitted shoes."

Dr. George Smith, another well-known authority on foot health, pointing out the necessity for careful bathing of the feet and the value of exercising their muscles regularly. Still another speaker deplored high heels and urged all women to make sure their shoes really fit.

I wish every woman who values her health and beauty could have heard all the speeches. The theories on correct care of the feet were backed up by sound facts based on carefully compiled statistics. In addition, a good many helpful rules on care of the feet were passed out. Here are a few of them:

Feet should be scrubbed and rinsed as carefully and frequently as any other part of the body.

Cotton and woolen socks absorb more moisture than silk ones and should be worn for active sports and other occasions when the feet perspire freely.

Along with setting up exercises to keep the figure trim and supple, every girl should do foot exercises to strengthen her arches and ankles.

And she never should wear high heels for walking or on those days when she has to stand up for hours at a time.

Lovable

BEGIN HERE TODAY
ANN HOLISTER breaks her engagement to TONY MICKLE the same day that PETER KENDALL tells VALERIA BENNETT, his fiancée, that everything is over between them. Ann thinks she still loves Tony and Peter believes he still loves Valeria. But when chance brings the two together and Peter asks Ann to marry him she agrees.

They go to Florida and are happy there. Then Peter is recalled home. His family wants Ann and Valeria tries to make trouble between Ann and Peter. She succeeds and Ann goes away, leaving no hint of her whereabouts.

Peter is disconsolate, believing Ann has discovered his love for her and gone because she can not return it. His efforts to find her are fruitless.

Valeria, scheming to win Peter back, takes him to a party. There he meets a man commenting on Ann's flight. Peter knocks the man down.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIII
THERE was a crash as Dick Randall hit the floor. A plate fell, like a small, weak echo. Someone screamed. Someone else grabbed Peter's arm, but he shook the restraining hand off and strode toward the door.

Valeria called, "Peter, Peter!" but he did not turn. In the silence that followed Dick poured her a drink, held it to her lips, whispering, "You lost. Now drink your poison."

Outside, head clearing, Peter was getting into his car. He knew now what he wanted. He had not wanted that noisy, greedy, gawking crowd. He wanted a good look at Tony. And then he wanted to break him between his hands.

The windows of Tony's duplex apartment were lighted. Tony was in. Perhaps Ann was there too. Peter wanted to see Ann's face when he broke Tony between his hands.

He pressed the bell and then, not waiting, turned the knob and flung the door wide.

Tony was coming toward him. Just beyond was a girl with bold eyes. Not Ann. Not Ann!

Peter stepped back, sanily retreating. Tony came outside, closing the door behind him.

"I say, Kendall, what do you want?" Then, as he saw Peter's devastated, haunted face, Tony went on. "You thought Ann was here?"

Peter put out a hand against the wall, steadying himself. He felt weak. "I haven't seen her since the night of her birthday," Tony said. "I called her and told her I wanted to see her. She came here. I gathered you had gone off some place, leaving her alone."

Peter waited.

"When she got here she looked tired and sick. I went in the kitchen to fix some cocktails. When I came back she was gone. She called from the car that she had just remembered something—something important, she said."

Peter remembered Ann's car inside the garage, the open door. He had been gone such a short time and believed Ann had taken a spin on the drive.

Tony said bitterly, "Do you know why she left that night? Because she realized she didn't love me. I don't know why I'm giving you this break, Kendall—I guess it's because she loves you."

Peter wrung Tony's hand. In a moment the world had changed. He drove to the apartment instead of the club. He flung the windows wide in Ann's room. He would sleep here tonight. In this room that was so filled with memories of Ann. Tomorrow he would begin the search for her—the search that had been too long delayed.

ANN had dressed early the morning she left the apartment. She had called a cab and managed to be waiting for the driver in the downstairs lobby when he arrived. "Where to, miss?" The taxi driver asked the question twice before the white-faced girl in the cab answered.

"Drive on some place."

He stared. After a moment he started the car. There was something queer about this. The call to one of the finest apartment buildings at an hour when most people were deep in sleep. The pretty girl with the pale face, waiting for him. How she had managed to carry those two bags was another mystery. She looked sick.

By shifting the mirror a little the cab driver could see her face. Yes, she was sick. There wasn't a doubt of it. Maybe he should suggest a hospital.

"Do you know some quiet place, a restaurant near here where I could get breakfast?" Ann asked. "Yes, miss. There's one not far from here."

A few minutes later he had deposited his strange fare and her two traveling bags in front of the restaurant. At this early hour the place was almost empty.

Ann stopped and bought a morning newspaper from a newsboy on the corner. She had just remembered that she had only $10 in her purse. The week before—on the day she had left for the week-end at the Merriweathers—she had recklessly emptied her purse for Carol. The $10 would have to provide food and shelter until she could find work.

Ann ordered only toast and coffee. Every extra nickel might count later.

WHILE she was eating she studied the "help wanted" advertisements—stenographers, waitresses, models, hotel hostesses, show girls with experience, bookkeepers, milliners.

Suddenly, a paragraph attracted her eye. "Wanted: Governess for two children in quiet home near city. Must be refined and willing to lead quiet, uneventful life. Four in the family."

"Willing to lead quiet uneventful life." No one—not one in all the world—wanted solitude so much as Ann.

She must get away from the city, from everything that would remind her of Peter. She must put the past behind her and build an entirely new life in which he had no part.

After a while he would get his divorce and be reinstated in his grandfather's good graces. Eventually, he would marry Valeria, the girl he really wanted.

Valeria had accused Ann of trapping Peter. Well, it was Valeria that Peter wanted—not a poor, silly, blind little fool who had mistaken his tenderness and consideration for love.

If Ann had been willing to accept affection as a substitute for love she would be lying now in a beautiful room. Presently Susan would enter with her breakfast, served on a large, silver tray. A

Nearing the Close of the Year

It must be great to feel at the close of the year, that you've done your duty in the way of cheer.

The year's close brings a well-earned rest.

You repose serenely with conscience clear.

Was the world made better by your deeds this year?

Did you heal any wounds—did you stop to cheer?

Have you planted a rose where a thistle grew?

How many hearts were gladdened by you?

Did the children smile as you passed by?

Were they glad to see your sun-lit eyes?

Is it better to serve, though it bring you pain?

Than to not the quitter in life's great game.—Selected

'Barnum' Sunday on Saenger's Screen

Wallace Beery, Adolph Menjou in Leading Roles, Here Three Days

The life story of that lovable humbug, P. T. Barnum, comes as the last outstanding picture hit of 1934 to the Saenger Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "The Mighty Barnum."

Supporting Wallace Beery who plays the title role are Adolph Menjou, Virginia Bruce and a score of other favorites.

As special compliment to Mrs. Caswell McKee of Fayetteville and Mrs. Joe Pat Black of Beaumont, Texas, Mrs. R. D. Franklin was hostess at a very delightful bridge party on Friday afternoon at her beautiful new home on South Main street. Bridge was played from three tables, with the high score favor going to Mrs. R. V. Herndon. Beautiful gifts of remembrance were presented to the honorees. At the conclusion of the game a delicious salad course was served.

Miss Mary Della Carrigan will have as week end guest, Miss Sarah Lee Moore of Prescott.

Mrs. G. G. Fulmer and two children of Little Rock are guests of Mrs. Fulmer's sister, Mrs. Guy Card and Mr. Card.

Miss Whitfield Cannon has as house guest, Miss Dorothy Sigley of Judsonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Butler who have been guests of relatives and friends for the past few days left Saturday for their home in Luxora, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore of Helena, arrived in Hope Saturday to visit Mr. Moore's brother, A. A. Moore and Mrs. Moore on North Hervey street. Saturday was the first meeting of the brothers in past 20 years. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will leave soon for Phoenix, Ariz., for an extended visit. Mr. Moore is president of a wholesale grocer concern at Helena.

After a holiday visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Andrews, Hoyt Andrews will leave Sunday for Waco, Texas, where he will resume his studies in Baylor University.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Wallace R. Rogers, Pastor

The Sunday School continues to grow and the spirit that is being manifested is one of the best that has ever been seen in the church. Anyone who is not in Sunday School is cordially invited to attend.

The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services. Morning worship beginning at 10:55 and the evening services at 7:30.

New literature for all organizations of the B. T. U. has arrived. The adult union is progressing wonderfully well under the leadership of Mrs. Edwin Dossett. We have a union for all ages. Won't you come at 6:30 Sunday night and enjoy a good program with us?

OUR LADY OF GOOD HOPE Sunday in Octave of Christmas

8:00 Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, Discourse: "The Holy Child."

9:15 Catechetical instructions.

6:30 Study "Sunday Visitor."

7:30 Benediction with the Most Blessed Sacrament; with prayers honoring the Infancy.

January 1st, Feast of the Circumcision, holy day of obligation. Holy Sacrifice of the Mass at 7:15. At night, Benediction at 7:30. Discourse: "Time."

FIRST CHRISTIAN Guy D. Holt, Pastor

Our Bible school starting at 9:45 extends an invitation to you to be present. Supt. Lloyd Coop is asking that you be there early enough for us to start on time.

Morning worship hour 11 a. m. at which time the Pastor will bring a New Year's message.

Intermediate C. E. will meet at 5:15 and the young peoples C. E. meeting at 6:30.

Remember our Wednesday night Prayer Meeting at 7:15.

Evening Worship hour 7:30, at which time Homer Foff who was reared at Hope and is not one of our ministers in Texas will bring the message, the subject of which will be, "The Great Physician."

The churches of Gurdon, Prescott and Hope will gather at the Prescott Christian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for a fifth Sunday meeting. We are anxious that as many as possible can attend this meeting.

We extend a hearty invitation to one and all to worship with us at all services.

Fred R. Harrison, Pastor

The pastor will preach at both services Sunday. The theme at the morning congregational worship will be, "Let Us Atoned." This will be a sermon for those who are tired of the struggle against evil. Come and hear this sermon with its New Year's meaning.

The subject at the evening hour 7:15 o'clock, will be, "The Grip that Holds." Each of these sermons has a special message for our people as we begin the New Year of 1935.

Next Monday night at 11 o'clock a Watch Night service will be held at the church. We are combining the Midweek Prayer and Praise service for this program. Those groups which are sponsoring parties are urged to attend this New Year's worship service. Each one who attends is requested to bring a tallow candle of any size or color, which will be used as a part of the service. The general public is also invited to this service.

Convict Bandit Is Taken in No. L. R.

Thomas T. Richmond Captured in Raid on Girl's Apartment

LITTLE ROCK—Thomas Tillar Richmond, 26, former trusty convict who escaped from a warden here Sunday night and fled in a taxicab after kidnapping the driver, was captured late Friday by North Little Rock police at an apartment house in North Little Rock.

Shortly after his capture, Richmond admitted to Chief J. O. McDougal of the North Little Rock Detective Bureau that he abducted the cab driver here and also that he kidnapped a Tulsa (Okla.) taxicab driver Thursday night to obtain transportation to North Little Rock, the officer said.

A companion of Richmond who escaped when the latter was captured was being sought by police last night, and a petite and blonde young woman, credited by police with having caused Richmond to return to North Little Rock, was held in the county jail for questioning.

The young woman, held as a suspect, is Mary McLaughlin, 23, 324½ East Washington avenue, North Little Rock, at whose apartment Richmond and his companion were visiting when the fugitive was captured, Chief McDougal said.

18th amendment was repealed. It is a felony of the federal statute to manufacture, possess, sell, transport or conceal whisky on which the revenue has not been paid, so you are sure for either state or federal court if you violate the liquor laws. I have the co-operation of the federal agents, and it will be my pleasure to co-operate with them.

"I will not have a salaried field man for the time being, since taxpaying does not begin until February 16, and I will devote my entire time to the field work."

"I am soliciting the co-operation of Chief of Police C. E. Baker and his force and the constables of the different townships of the county, and they have my co-operation for law and order."

Mr. Bearden further stated that advance costs in all civil cases will be required.

Ford Air Program Set Back an Hour

Sunday Broadcast to Be Received From 8 to 9 p. m., January 6

The Ford Sunday Evening Hour broadcasts, previously heard from 8 to 9 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, will move to a new and more desirable time on the CBS network on Sunday, January 6, and will be broadcast thereafter from 9 to 10 o'clock Eastern Standard Time (9 to 9:30 p. m.).

This means that the program, which features the seventy-piece Ford Symphony Orchestra and Chorus of forty-four voices, both under the direction of Victor Kolar, as well as weekly guest artists of international distinction, will be heard in the future one hour later than formerly.

The 9 to 10 hour in the east will send the program to other parts of the country at 8 o'clock Central Standard Time, 7 o'clock Rocky Mountain Time, and 6 o'clock Pacific Coast Time. This new time is particularly advantageous in the western and far western states, where the new hour moves the program from late afternoon to early evening time.

The change will in no way affect the nature of the programs, which will continue to present the orchestra and chorus and guest artists. The present network of ninety-five Columbia stations, which is the largest regularly-sponsored commercial network in radio history, has been preserved intact. This network not only covers every section of the United States, but includes also Canadian stations and two short-wave stations capable of transmitting the concerts all over the world.

Lowell Sherman, of Films, Is Dead

Actor and Director Succumbs at 45 of Pneumonia Attack

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—Lowell Sherman, aged 47, film director and actor, died of pneumonia at a hospital here late Friday.

Sherman, who directed Mae West in "She Done Him Wrong" and Katharine Hepburn in "Morning Glory," was ordered to the hospital last Thursday from the Pathé studio. Sherman had suffered from laryngitis the past year and had all but lost his voice. He had a habit of dressing lightly, wearing shorts and an open front shirt while working under the hot lights on the sound stages.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION

The half-column picture, erroneously published in yesterday's Star under the caption "U. S. Indicts Two Lawyers in Crime War," was that of James H. Mathers, father of James C. Mathers. Below is a one-column picture of James C. Mathers, who was indicted in connection with the Urshel kidnapping case. No action was brought against James H. Mathers.

Both participated in the defense of Harvey Bailey, who was convicted in the case, and it was through this fact and the similarity of names that the error in photographs was made. NEA is deeply sorry for the mistake.

—NEA Service Inc., Cleveland, Ohio.

Lawyer Indicted in Kidnap Case

Federal indictment has been returned against James C. Mathers, prominent Oklahoma criminal lawyer, above, on charges of "illegal participation in the division of the ransom money" paid for the release of the kidnapped Charles Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire. Mathers defended Harvey Bailey, who was given a life term for the abduction.

Big Airplane Is Forced Down Here

Reg Robbins Lands Safely in Fog—Mud Delays His Take-Off Again

Reg Robbins, former co-holder of the world's endurance flight record was forced down at the municipal airport here Friday by a heavy fog.

Robbins, en route from Fort Worth, Texas to Hopkinsville, Ky., set his trimotored Ford down at the port without difficulty.

He said he hoped to hop off Saturday for Hopkinsville where he will pick-up a party for a charter flight to the Rose Bowl football game next week.

At noon, however, Robbins was still on the local field, his five-ton ship being mired down in a soft spot on the rain-soaked port.

Sapiro Acquitted of Jury-Fixing Charge

NEW YORK—(AP)—Aaron Sapiro, Chicago and New York lawyer, was acquitted Friday by a federal court jury which heard evidence against him and Sam Roth, theatrical promoter, on charges of attempting to "fix" a jury and conspiracy. Roth was convicted on one count.

The count on which the jury convicted Roth, former vice president of the Journal Square bank, Jersey City, N. J., charged an attempt to influence a jurymen, Gaston Chauvin, in the so-called D. V. Bennett Company mail fraud case. The jury was out nearly 19 hours.

FOR SALE—A Brand-new Year!

Last year's resolutions are gone—kept or broken. Years have a habit of coming and going, but the habit does not keep us from regarding each new one as a new adventure in living . . . as an opportunity to achieve greater happiness.

For isn't life, after all, in things material as well as spiritual, a constant search for happiness? And isn't satisfaction a companion thought for this happiness?

There's a heap of satisfaction and happiness in being able to buy the things you need at a price you can afford to pay. Many dollars can be saved if you know where to get the most for what you spend.

The advertisements in this newspaper will help you do this every day of this brand-new year. They bring you the latest, most authoritative news of the offerings of many manufacturers. The suggestions they offer will save you much time and trouble and lead you straight to the best values.

AN APPETITE OF THE OLD SCHOOL

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

THAT'S GOT TH' BIG BOYS STUMPED. THER'S RULES AGIN' SITTIN' DOWN, SLEEPIN' SMOKIN', VISITIN' AN' READIN', WHILE YOUR MACHINE IS RUNNIN', BUT THEY EVIDENTLY OVERLOOKED FIDDLE PLAYIN'—THEY'LL BAN THAT, ALL RIGHT.

VEH—BUT I DON'T SEE WHY, THO— THAT DON'T KEEP A GUY'S MIND OFF HIS WORK ANY MORE THAN COUNTIN' SPARROWS COMIN' IN THRU A HOLE IN TH' WINDOW, ER WATCHIN' A SPIDER BUILD A WEB.

THE TIME KILLER

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Right to the Point!

BOY! OHBOYOHBOY!

WHERE'D YUH GET IT?

TH' PROFESSOR LOANED IT TO ME FER NEW YEAR'S EVE.... BANG!

AIN'T IT A HONEY?

YEAH, BUT TH' BAYONET... YUH CAN'T MAKE ANY NOISE WITH THAT

OH, CAN'T I?

ALLEY OOP

On to Moo!

SO—WE'RE TO BE ATTACKED BY A BAND OF MOOVIAN DINOSAUR CAVALRY, ACCORDING TO TH' PRISONER'S STORY! HMM—I'LL HAFTA FIND OUT MORE 'BOUT THIS!

HEY, BRING ME ANOTHER PRISONER! YEE ZIR!

JUST WHEN DID YOUR KING PLAN TO LAUNCH HIS TROOP OF DINOSAUR CAVALRY AT US?

DINOSAUR CAVALRY? WHATCHA TALKIN' 'BOUT? I DON'T KNOW NOTHIN' 'BOUT NO TROOP OF DINOSAURS!

HERE'S ANOTHER PRISONER FOR YA!

12-29

Something to Think About!

PRISONER, WHERE IS KING GUZ'S DINOSAUR CAVALRY?

DINOSAUR CAVALRY? OH, YOU MUST MEAN ALLEY OOP AN' HIS DINOSAUR—GUZ DON'T KNOW HIMSELF, I DON'T GUESS—OOP GOT MAD AN' DISAPPEARED BEFORE WE LEFT—

SHALL I BRING IN ANOTHER PRISONER, WHAT I WANTED YER HIGHNESS THERE AINT NO SUCH THING AS MOOVIAN DINOSAUR CAVALRY

NO—IT WON'T BE NECESSARY! I'VE FOUND OUT WHAT I WANTED! HAH! HAH!

CAPTAIN—WE MARCH ON MOO, IMMEDIATELY! AH, HAH! BY THIS TIME TOMORROW, I'LL NOT ONLY BE KING OF LEM—BUT KING OF MOO, ALSO!

BULLETINS:

INTERNATIONAL CRISIS GROWS MORE ACUTE!

BULGRAVIA DEMANDS THAT PRINCE PHILBERT BE FOUND.

CONTINUES TO MASS TROOPS ON KANDELAB-RAN BORDER.

PRINCESS JADA FRANTIC APPEALS TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

MEANWHILE, WASH AND EASY, ARRESTED AS SPIES IN BULGRAVIA, LIE AWAKE LISTENING TO THE RUMBLING ROAR OF TRUCKS AND ARTILLERY BOUND FOR THE FRONT.

..... AND THE MONOTONOUS THUMP-THUMP-THUMP OF MARCHING REGIMENTS.

LONG LIFE BULGRAVIA!

DOWN MIT KANDELABRA!

WE'LL BRING BACK PRINCE PHILBERT, OR BUST.

LISSEN, EASY, THERE MUST BE SOME MISTAKE. THEY'RE GOING TO WAR OVER PRINCE PHILBERT, AN' TH' DERN COO-COO'S IN TH' VERY NEXT ROOM.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

To a Certain Point!

I THINK I HAVE A SWEET CLUE! I HAVE AN IDEA THAT THE ENGINEER AND FIREMAN WERE SHOT FROM INSIDE THE CAB!

WHAT MAKES YOU THINK SO?

A FARMER, WHO WAS STANDING NEAR THE TRACKS, THE DAY WE CHASED NUMBER SIX, DIDN'T HEAR ANY SHOTS!

BUT TODAY HE HEARD US SHOOT OFF A FIRECRACKER WHILE THE TRAIN WENT BY! THAT PROVES THAT IF SHOTS HAD BEEN FIRED FROM OUTSIDE OF THE TRAIN, HE'D HAVE HEARD THEM THEN!

HMM

By BLOSSER

..... AND I SUPPOSE THE WOULD-BE MURDERER WAS INSIDE THE FIREBOX WEARING AN ASBESTOS SUIT?

I DON'T KNOW ABOUT THAT PART OF IT! I ONLY GOT HIM AS FAR AS THE FIREBOX... YOU'LL HAVE TO FIGURE THE REST!!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

It all Comes Out in the Wash!

YOU'RE FUNNY! ONLY LAST WEEK, YOU DIDN'T HAVE ONE GOOD WORD FOR JUDGE QUARTON, AND AT MRS. VAN SWANKTON'S PARTY LAST NIGHT, YOU AND THE JUDGE WERE LIKE THIS.

—AND NOW YOU QUOTE HIM ON EVERYTHING!!

WELL, I LIKE TO GAB WITH HIM—GIVE ME A CLEAN SHIRT!

HE CAN GAB, ALL RIGHT, BUT HE ALWAYS DID BORE ME TO TEARS

YOU DON'T STIMULATE HIM, MENTALLY—WHY, IN OUR TALK THE OTHER NIGHT, THE JUDGE BROUGHT THINGS HOME TO ME I NEVER SAW BEFORE!

SO DOES OUR LAUNDRESS!
